

Porceko

BEST-IN-CLASS LARGE FORMAT PORCELAIN SLABS

Large Porcelain Slabs, popularized in surface industries, are a new concept that has hit the ground running. Today people are looking for various options with the idea of using large Porcelain slabs for a variety of different constructions and remodelling projects, including flooring, walls, countertops, and much more.

Porcelain is completely inimical to dust mites, bacteria, fungi, and irritants and thus prevents serious health problems. Since the material is manufactured at temperatures that reach up to 1200 degrees, it is inherently inorganic and emits zero VOCs. Any grease or dirt on the surface can easily be wiped away using disinfectant solutions.

One such company which provide an everlasting substitute for imported marble and granite is Gujarat-based, Porceko. Associated with over 150 Dealers pan-India, Porceko has an effective presence in the Export sector too, with clients from over 10 countries.

Innovative Crestamatte® Surface

Breakthrough research and findings is carried out in the design and development sector, aiding the company to impart the finest designs, that depict a contemporary and yet modernized culture. The Crestamatte® surface renders spill proof and germ-free properties, thus establishing health and hygiene as the major components of the product.

Porceko is in a continuous process of innovating, designing, and also maintaining quality products and surfaces for the greater satisfaction of clients in all the sectors

Variety of shades, patterns & surfaces

Porceko ensures to provide the best designs with a variety of shades, patterns, and surfaces. Having an in-house quality control team, each design is crafted as a unique masterpiece and checked through the minute details before stepping towards the final production. Therefore, any defects found during the quality check process are carefully observed and worked upon for further correction.

“Quality is a major concern for all. Since our clients are architects, interior designers, retailers as well as consumers, they look for new patterns and designs, wanting something different every time. Thus, Porceko is in a continuous process of innovating, designing, and also maintaining quality products and surfaces for the greater satisfaction of clients in all the sectors,” explains Ashutosh Maheshwari and Murtaza Mithaiwala, Co-Founders, Porceko.

Ashutosh Maheshwari & Mutaza Mithaiwala, Co-Founders

Continuous development & innovation

Delivering cost-effective and affordable products to its clients, is what Porceko believes in. With Continuous Development and Innovation, the company strives to fulfil the high choices of the architects and designers across the country.

Future road map

The ability to predict and respond to the changes and developments in the lifestyle, architectures and designs, is what is prioritized by the company, keeping in light a sustainable environment always.

Porceko’s mission is to preserve to develop and deliver something truly unique and relevant at each doorstep, with the purpose of giving a sense of clarity and satisfaction.

It sets a vision to build a strong social presence and an enlarged network, which would collectively strive for imparting sustainable and eco-friendly product, thus creating a beautiful and yet harmonious surrounding to live in. The company aims to create a luxury lifestyle in an affordable manner, thus paving towards a better India.

Therefore, through a continual cycle of improving and increasing the opportunities by building generous relations with clients, Porceko aims in setting a top benchmark in the Porcelain Industry. ||